

Sharing Diverse Perspectives

Collaborating and Partnering

We envision longer, healthier lives for all rural North Carolinians.

The North Carolina Rural Health Leadership Alliance connects and convenes diverse work groups and forums to discuss healthcare access issues and to foster collaborative rural health solutions.

Get Involved

The North Carolina Rural Health Leadership Alliance includes nonprofit agencies, healthcare professionals, government organizations, and rural residents.

The alliance meets quarterly in February, May, August, and November of each year. In addition to these quarterly membership meetings, work groups meet as needed to carry out the work of the alliance. Involvement is free with the expectation that members will come to the group ready to share experiences, ideas and perspectives.

Sharing Evidence-based Data

Current work topics include:

- > Telemedicine Delivery
- > Workforce Recruitment & Retention
- > Health Insurance & Safety Net Resources
- > Small Business & Rural Economics
- > Healthy Eating & Active Living

Though members of the alliance began convening in the 1990s, the North Carolina Rural Health Leadership Alliance formalized in 2014 as a program of the Foundation for Health Leadership & Innovation. The alliance is funded through the National Rural Health Association and the Kate B. Reynolds Charitable Trust.